I have heard many people say that this has been a terrible or rough year because of the pandemic. Some say that too many things have changed because of COVID-19. As I look back upon this year, I find it has not been a terrible year or a rough year—it has been a different year.

Certainly, this Thanksgiving will be different for us. Our family has agreed not to get together this year because of COVID-19. However, we will call each other and share thanksgiving for the many ways God has blessed our family this year. Indeed, God has blessed our family; there have been challenges and disappointments, but the blessings outweigh them.

When we celebrate Thanksgiving, may we not dwell on the things we have no control over—for example, COVID-19, the weather, or the rising of the sun. Rather, may we reflect upon the things that are important in our life—namely, our families, the plentiful food we have to eat, shelter, etc.

However we choose to celebrate Thanksgiving this year, may we do it with a joyful heart filled with gratitude to God for His unconditional love for each one of us. I wish you, your family, and your friends a wonderful Thanksgiving, and share with you this prayer:

Heavenly Father, we your unworthy servants give you humble thanks for all the goodness and loving kindness you have given to us and to all people—particularly our families, friends and loved ones. We thank you for all the blessings of this life, our disappointments and failures, but above all, for your incomparable love in the redemption of the world, through your Son Jesus Christ, and for the means of grace and the hope of glory.

Father of all gifts, we praise you, the source of all we have and are. Help us to love you with all our hearts and all our strength as our expression of thanksgiving for your many blessings. Fill our hearts with the spirit of gratitude. Amen.

Bon mot: “God has two dwellings: one in heaven, and the other in a meek and thankful heart.”

DISPENSATION EXTENDED THROUGH FEBRUARY 17, 2021

In a letter to the faithful of the Archdiocese of Detroit, Archbishop Vigneron announced that due to the increasing numbers of positive COVID-19 cases in southeast Michigan, and the dramatic and dangerous rate at which positive cases are increasing, he has made the decision to extend the dispensation from the obligation to attend Mass on Sundays and Holy Days of obligation for people living in or visiting the Archdiocese of Detroit until Ash Wednesday, February 17, 2021. The full letter can be found at aod.org/emergencyresponse.

While the dispensation has been extended, St. Jane Frances de Chantal currently remains open for public worship, and all guidelines for mask-wearing, social distancing, and other precautions to help ensure the health and well-being of our communities remain in place.

As we prepare to celebrate Thanksgiving this week, I am aware of all there is to be thankful for, including celebrating three years of ministry with this wonderful community of faith! Thank you to the parishioners of St. Jane Frances de Chantal, the wonderful staff, and Fr. Tony. We have been through a lot this year, but our parish family has continued to be just that—a loving family, weathering the storms together.

Please join us on Tuesday, November 24, 2020 at 7:00pm for our Thanksgiving Mass. Below is a prayer of gratitude you can pray as you gather to enjoy your Thanksgiving meal—adapted from The Catholic Prayer Book, compiled by Msgr. Michael Buckley:

Thank you, Father, for having created us and given us to each other in the human family. Thank you for being with us in all our joys and sorrows, for your comfort in our sadness, and your companionship in our loneliness. Thank you for yesterday, today, tomorrow, and for the whole of our lives. Thank you for friends, for health, and for grace. May we live this and every day conscious of all that has been given to us.

ADVENT 2020 RESOURCES

Advent is nearly upon us! Advent begins with the Vigil Mass on Saturday, November 28th. We have several ways to prepare for and engage in this season:

Advent Candles for home use are available in the Parish Office for a donation of $3/set.

“Little Blue Books,” Advent Edition are available in the Gathering Space for your Advent preparations. These little books offer a great way to prepare your heart for the Lord. Suggested donation is $1/book.

Alternate Advent Reflection Books can also be found in the Gathering Space. These are two new resources for daily Advent reflection: Miracles Abound by Sr. Janet Schaeffler, OP and A World Full of Promise by David M. Knight. Both booklets provide a reflection and Advent prayer for the day, as well as a suggestion for an action or activity to practice your faith. Suggested donation is $1/book.

Choices and decisions help root us— and even uproot us at times. Last week, we heard the Gospel of the Talents, where three stewards were given charge over various amounts of wealth by their master. We know that two of the stewards gave the master back significant increases of his wealth. The third gave the master back exactly what he had been given, and the master was upset—but why?

Let us think about this week’s solemnity—defined by Merriam-Webster as a “formal or ceremonious observance of an occasion or event.” The Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe—that really is a loaded title! Our Lord, Christ, King of the Universe—these are three separate titles for Jesus. We call Jesus our Lord—master, ruler, leader, chief, Christ the Anointed, the Redeemer, the Messiah, and King of the Universe. That really speaks for itself—He is the Master of all things. Why include all these titles? Because we are human beings, and we really need to be reminded that Jesus really is all that!

Yes, He is our brother, our confidant, our buddy, but He is also so much more, and He really is worthy of more praise and adoration than we could ever give Him! This does not mean that, because we could never reach that level of expected praise, we should just say, “Well, forget it then.” We still owe everything to God, and to the sacrifice of His life that Jesus made for all of us.

Our first reading speaks of a shepherd who literally lives for his flock—like how Jesus literally died for His flock. The second reading spoke of sin, and how, through man (Adam), we as the human race tend to choose death as an end. But along came the God-man Jesus, who through His sacrifice extended life beyond our mortal death toward infinity. To paraphrase 1 Corinthians 15:26-28, Jesus destroys death, rules over all earthly things, and gives Himself to God, so that God truly is all in all!

My thoughts about last week’s readings are this: the master isn’t upset that he was given back the same amount that he had given out. He was upset that the steward admitted to burying what was given to him and doing nothing with it. If our Lord, our Christ, our King of the Universe, would subjugate Himself, are we not called to subjugate ourselves the same way? If we truly believe that Jesus is the one we follow, we must strive to be more like Him in all that we do. Happy “New Year’s Eve!” We’ll see you next week at the start of a new liturgical year!

I thought I knew which choices were the right ones.

I used to think I knew what it meant to be a good Catholic. Then, I learned about Catholic Social Teaching. I realized there was so much about the Catholic faith that I didn't know about.

Most importantly, I learned how to be a modern Catholic—to apply the principles of Catholic Social Teaching to the world I live in today.

Catholic Social Teaching has become my compass for being a Catholic in today's world.

Through Catholic Social Teaching, I learned that God calls us to respect one another's human dignity—to organize our society so that every person and family is supported, encouraged to grow, and contributes to the common good.

I learned that every person is a welcome participant in society, with human rights and responsibilities that afford them the basic needs of human decency.

I learned that we must put the poor and vulnerable first, and respect and make available meaningful, productive work that recognizes the gift of a day's labor.

I learned that we are asked to do all of this in solidarity with our fellow children of God across the globe, caring for God's creation by ensuring its resources are mindfully used and shared by all in a responsible manner, thereby preserving it for generations to come.

The principles of Catholic Social Teaching serve as points on our moral compass, each one guiding our conscience as we strive to live a life of holiness and build a just society.

THANKSGIVING COLLECTION

Every year, the collection from the Thanksgiving Mass benefits our St. Vincent de Paul chapter and the many programs they facilitate for our community. We thank you for your generosity in this collection.

MODERN LIVING AS A CATHOLIC

Life and Dignity of the Human Person tells us that all people are sacred.

We are all created in the image of God with inherent dignity. When a person's dignity is denied, we must act; indifference is not an option.

How can I better respect the dignity of every human being?

Call to Family, Community, and Participation shows us our duty to the common good.

Every person is a child of God. We have an obligation to care for all the people of earth as one family of God.

What can I do to make sure our society benefits everyone?

Rights and Responsibilities

helps us understand our responsibilities to each other, and the basic needs of human decency.

All people have a right to a decent life and a responsibility to protect the rights of everyone, especially when those rights are violated.

When I see or hear about the rights of others being violated, how does God expect me to respond?

Care for God's Creation

helps us care for God's gift to us: the earth.

God gave us the responsibility to care for creation. As long as the environment is in danger, so are people's lives and livelihoods.

What decisions and actions can I take at home and in the workplace that will affect the needs of the poor and of our shared world?

SJFPARISH.ORG/

CATHOLIC IC IN TODAY'S WORLD

Option for the Poor and Vulnerable

tells us to help the most vulnerable members of our communities.

As Catholics, we have a duty to address the causes of poverty—to ask, “Why does it exist?” and to do something about it.

How can I support and advocate for laws and policies that protect the poor and vulnerable?

The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers

shows that the economy must serve its people, not the other way around.

People have a right to work, and those who work have rights—including a just wage, adequate benefits, and safe working conditions.

What choices can I make in my day-to-day life that support the rights of workers?

Solidarity

teaches us that we are one human family in a global neighborhood pursuing justice and peace.

None of us is an island. We are responsible for each other and must work for justice and peace for all.

What are ways I can show solidarity with people in need, and work for justice both locally and globally?

Want to revisit what we've learned?

All ten weeks of Modern Catholic are available at sjfparish.org/mcarchive.

Resources to provide a fuller understanding of each principle are available at sjfparish.org/mcresources.

We hope you've enjoyed going on this journey with us through the seven principles of Catholic Social Teaching.

Now, we want to hear from you.

Catholic Social Teaching continues to be our compass as we navigate the modern world. Now that we've been introduced to each of the seven principles, we must ask, “What now?”

How can we use the seven principles of Catholic Social Teaching to be modern Catholics?

We encourage you to email us at modernatholic@sjfparish.org to share how Catholic Social Teaching will influence your daily life. This is your opportunity to enter the conversation! Which principles stood out to you, and why? And, most importantly, what aspects of Catholic Social Teaching would you like to learn more about?

Modern Catholic has been our weekly series exploring the seven principles of Catholic Social Teaching. We'll be back in early 2021. For now, we wish you a blessed Advent, and encourage you to use this Advent season to reflect and respond. We hope to hear from you via email by December 20, 2020 at modernatholic@sjfparish.org!

A NOTE ON OUR DIGITAL AND LIVE MASSES

This past Sunday, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services issued an epidemic order to halt the spread of COVID-19. This order asked all Michigan residents to take necessary precautions for the health and safety of the community.

In recognition of this epidemic order, we will only be providing prerecorded video Mass until further notice. We will no longer broadcast Mass live on Saturdays. However, Mass for each weekend will still be available on our YouTube channel and our website.

This does not affect the celebration of in-person worship. We continue to offer in-person Masses on our normal Mass schedule. However, we encourage all parishioners to use their best judgement when deciding whether to attend Mass in person during this pandemic.
