GENERAL DISPENSATION EXTENDED AND SET TO EXPIRE ON MARCH 13, 2021

Parishioners,

In a letter to the faithful of the Archdiocese of Detroit, Archbishop Vigneron announced that the general dispensation from the Sunday obligation to attend public Mass has been extended until March 13, 2021.

The general dispensation will expire on this date.

Archbishop Vigneron stated that:

“In recognition of the essential and central nature of the Eucharist Sacrifice in our lives as Catholics, and in acknowledgement of my duty as shepherd to care for the souls of everyone within our diocese, it is important that I lead more of us back to Mass, when and where possible. That is why the general dispensation from the Sunday obligation will be extended only for one month, until March 13.

“With its expiration, I intend to grant some particular dispensations to those in need. It is time for us to welcome back more of the faithful with a renewed amazement that we have a God who is so close to us and who has such a deep love for us that he comes to us in flesh and blood. Active participation in Mass is an occasion for all of us to avail ourselves of the immeasurable spiritual graces Christ desires for his faithful through his Paschal Sacrifice. “

While the general dispensation will be removed, there are specific instances in which the dispensation will continue, as well as circumstances in which there is no obligation in the first place.

One does not have an obligation to attend Mass on Sunday or Holy Days of Obligation in the following circumstances:

1. You are ill or your health condition would be significantly compromised if you were to contract a communicable illness (i.e., you have underlying conditions or are in a high-risk category). Please use the dispensation and do not attend Mass.
2. You exhibit flu-like symptoms. Please use the dispensation and do not attend Mass.
3. You have good reason to think you might be asymptomatic of a contagious illness (e.g., you were in recent contact with someone who tested positive for a contagious illness, such as COVID-19 or influenza). Please use the dispensation and do not attend Mass.
4. You care for the sick, homebound, or infirmed.
5. You are pregnant.
6. You are of 65 years of age or older (per the CDC’s recommendation of high-risk individuals).
7. You cannot attend Mass through no fault of your own (e.g., no Mass is offered, you are infirmed, or, while wanting to go, you are prevented for some reason you cannot control (e.g., your ride did not show up, the Church was at capacity)).
8. If you have significant fear or anxiety of becoming ill by being at Mass.

Those within categories #1-8 above must still observe the Lord’s Day and are encouraged to spend time in prayer on Sunday, meditating on the Lord’s passion, death and resurrection; an excellent way to do this is by participating in a broadcast of the Sunday Mass.

The Archbishop also emphasized that the Archdiocese welcomes back to Mass all Catholics who have already been engaged in other activities that would present a similar or greater risk of exposure to COVID-19, such as eating out at restaurants, traveling, partaking in non-essential shopping, and widening one’s circle of contacts. These individuals should also prepare to return to Mass in recognition of its preeminence in our lives as Catholics.

Peace,

Fr. Tony & the staff of St. Jane Frances de Chantal Parish

On Ash Wednesday, we embarked upon the season of Lent. As we, the community of St. Jane Frances de Chantal Parish, begin our Lenten journey, may we pray for each other—but may we also lift up in prayer those people who are most in need of God’s attention.

Recently, I read an article from America magazine, a weekly catholic periodical published by the Jesuits. The article was titled “Lent May Once Again Don Its Public Mask.” It was written in 1978 and was reprinted in last week’s edition of America. It asks the question, what relevance does Lent have for Catholics?

The author reminds us that the three disciplines of Lent—namely, fasting, almsgiving, and prayer—are to enable us to renew or refresh our relationship with God, but also to move us outwardly into society and the world, to the people who are our siblings in Christ.

I often use the example of food donations. Donations to the food pantry are very generous during the Christmas and Easter seasons. People are most generous during that time of year—how wonderful that is to see! However, the needs of the poor and needy are year-round. The good works we do are not only meant to be done during a particular season of the liturgical year. The good works we perform during the season of Lent must become a part of our lives and ministries as children of God.

The article from America magazine states that “Lent calls us to step out of the ordinary precisely so that we can step back into it with eyes opened and hearts renewed. The tradition has always emphasized the practical aim of Lenten self-denial: a greater openness and sensitivity to the needs of others.”

The author goes on to say, “Lent is, after all, the season of spring, of new life. Although its image may bear some cheerless connotations, its reality is refreshing. As American Catholics rediscover its ritual effectiveness, Lent may once again don its public face. And American society just might take notice.”

Have a wonderful Lent.

Bon mot: “No one is so rich that he does not need another’s help; no one is so poor as not to be useful to his fellow man.”

—Pope Leo XIII, Graves de Communi, January 10, 1901.

Carpe Diem,

Fr. Tony

SUPPORT THE CHURCH IN CENTRAL & EASTERN EUROPE

Restore the Church. Build the future.

Many countries transitioning from the former communist regimes in Eastern Europe continue to be stricken by poverty. In Albania, a country that experienced a particularly harsh form of communism, many young women facing extreme poverty succumb to misleading promises of marriage or work opportunities, drop out of school, and travel abroad. The Catholic Church of Albania, which is being restored after the fall of communism, is at the forefront of helping young women overcome these risks through tuition support, the arts, faith activities, and culinary workshops that prepare them for work that allows them to support themselves and contribute to their family budgets.

With support from the Collection for the Church in Central and Eastern Europe, the Laura Vicuña Center and the Rogationist Fathers' high school has provided education, skills training, and brighter futures to 13 young women from the town of Tale. When you participate in the collection, you help to make education and life opportunities a reality for at-risk youth, such as the young women in Tale, and you provide a witness of the faith to a recovering religion.

This collection will be taken up next weekend, February 27 & 28, 2021. The envelope for the collection is included in this bulletin. More information about the collection and the projects it supports can be found at usccb.org/ccee.

LENTEN REFLECTION BOOKS

Both the Little Black Books and two Lenten reflection books are now available in the Gathering Space. The Little Black Book contains six-minute reflections on the Sunday Gospels of Lent (Cycle B). The reflections begin February 14th and continue through Easter Sunday.

We also have a supply of two other booklets this year: Embrace This Holy Season by Joseph F. Sica and Mending Our Hearts by Alice Camille. The booklets contain daily reflections from Ash Wednesday through Holy Saturday. These booklets are a great resource for learning more about your faith and deepening your relationship with Jesus through prayer. Suggested donation for each book is $1.

As we enter the season of Lent, we are called to “return to God.” What does that mean?

Sometimes, in the everyday events of our lives, we fall short of our goal to love God as we should. We love God because he is our Creator, and he loves us, so we respond to that gift of love. The Catechism of the Catholic Church explains our call to love God: “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind” (CCC 2083) and “God has loved us first. The love of the One God is recalled in the first of the ‘ten words.’ The commandments then make explicit the response of love that man is called to give to his God” (CCC 2083).

We can understand how we return to God by examining the first three commandments, which deal with our relationship with God:

1. I am the Lord your God: you shall not have strange gods before me.
2. You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain.
3. Remember to keep holy the Lord’s Day.

These commandments give us direction for the relationship of reciprocal love we have to God as his creation. God is the fullest expression of love, and we are called to share that love with God and with all his creation, our neighbors. Returning to God is loving God as he loves us. To love God is to follow his commandments, including the Ten Commandments given to Moses by God, and Jesus’s Great Commandment to “love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind” and “love your neighbor as yourself” (Mt 22:37-39).

God gave us the commandments out of love for us and to help us understand what was written in our hearts at our creation (Rom 2:15). The first three commandments speak of our relationship to God, which leads to our love of neighbor. While God freely loves us, we, as a result of Original Sin, need help to love God by following his commandments. To help us, God makes his grace available to us through our prayer and participation in the sacraments. God’s grace enables us to return his love and to love our neighbor for his sake. Without God’s grace, I believe it would be impossible for us to follow the teachings of Jesus. Our human nature causes us to often forget the path of love, especially when we cannot see or touch the source of love. St. Paul writes of God as love in his letter to the Corinthians: “Love never ends” and “Faith, hope, and love abide, these three; and the greatest of these is love” (1 Cor 13:8, 13). God’s never-ending, all-encompassing love for us allows us to have faith in him, such that our love of God does not require us to see or feel him. Faith is a gift that comes with God’s grace; it raises our thinking and behavior beyond what we can do alone. God’s love of us gives us the grace to love him in return. We “walk by faith, not by sight” (2 Cor 5:7).

You might ask, how do I show my love for God without seeing or touching him? We show that love by loving our neighbor. I love my neighbor in many ways: in RCIA, bringing people to the fullness of the Church; through prayer for those who are in need; through stewardship of the earth; and through accompanying others in their journey of faith. You may want to reflect on how you show your love of God, even without seeing or touching him.

It is interesting to think of loving God as a commandment from God, but just as creation of the world came before the creation of humanity, God’s love for us came first, without any requirement to love God in return.

Pope Benedict, in his encyclical Deus Caritas Est (On Christian Love), helps us to understand how God does not command our love: "Since God has first loved us, love is now no longer a mere 'command'; it is the response to the gift of love with which God draws near to us." God does not command us to love him; God's love is expressed in his commandments as the way to love him, but it is still an act of free will to love God and follow the commandments.

An important part of God's love for humanity is demonstrated in creating humanity with free will. That free will extends to all aspects of life. We can choose not to follow the commandments and not to love God. However, the consequence of that choice separates us completely from God and the eternal life he promises. The second and third commandments follow from the first, addressing humanity's relationship to God in the way we speak of God and the way we worship God. Names are important; they represent the person. We do not refer to a person that we love and respect with a slanderous term or use their name as a weapon. Our attitude toward a name often reflects our attitude toward the person whose name it is. Think about how people refer to someone they struggle to respect; often, we refuse to even call them by their name. We also make time for those we love and have a relationship with. That is why we remember to keep Holy the Lord's Day. The Sunday Mass is the chief way we return love to God, setting aside time to worship and give thanks in communion with God's people and his Church.

Love of God is a response to the love God gave us first. When we have faith in God, we recognize God as the creator, the giver of life, and we wish to honor that gift by loving God and neighbor in return. Recognizing God as the one, true God, above all, respecting God by reverencing his name, and worshipping God by setting aside a day to honor him all give testimony to reciprocal love, the love that each of us is called to share. Honoring the first three commandments is the first step in our Lenten journey to return to God.

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION WITH RECITATION OF DIVINE PRAISES

FIRST SUNDAY OF LENT

2021 FISH FRYS

Whether you came for the delicious fish dinners, to share in fellowship, or even to volunteer, our Fish Frys were a great place to come together on Friday evenings during Lent.

While we were hoping to hold Fish Frys again this year, it is with a heavy heart that due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Fish Fry Committee has decided to cancel all 2021 Fish Frys.

In lieu of supporting our parish ministries through the Fish Frys, we ask that you instead please consider supporting local restaurants. Many local establishments have been hit hard during the COVID-19 pandemic. While we won't be serving our dinners, we hope you'll enjoy a meal from one of your favorite local restaurants. This way, we will all be working to help the local economy during these trying times.

We thank you for supporting our parish activities, and we pray that you and your families are healthy and safe.
