SEVENTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

JULY 26, 2020

FR. TONY SULKOWSKI
Pastor
FrTony@sjfparish.org
Ext. 102

My parents had a family business—a grocery store in Memphis, Michigan—and it goes without saying that my siblings and I worked in the store until we left for college. I remember that my parents were always asked to place an ad in this or that paper. Placing an ad in any paper is an expensive proposition. It always made my parents feel good when a customer would come in and say they saw our ad in the paper. They would always say that placing the ad was money well-spent.

This little journey down memory lane brings me to my point. You have probably seen the ads that are in our bulletin. These advertisers are contacted by the bulletin company and pay a certain amount, depending upon the size of the advertisement, to have their ad placed in our bulletin. As you can imagine, it can be an expensive proposition. Because our sponsors run ads in our bulletin, we are able to print the bulletin at no cost to you or the parish.

I would like to thank all the businesses that have renewed their contact with the bulletin company, and I would like to thank and welcome those businesses that have “signed on” for the first time. I thank you and appreciate all you do for the parish of St. Jane Frances de Chantal. Thank you for your generosity.

Which brings me to another point: I would ask that we all support the businesses that sponsor our bulletin. Tell them that you saw their ad in the St. Jane Frances de Chantal parish bulletin. Every week, a business is highlighted on the electronic sign on Ryan Road. I hope that the advertisers who have made a commitment to St. Jane Frances de Chantal with their advertising will echo the words my parents spoke: “It was money well-spent.”

It is important to support small businesses—not only during the time of the pandemic, as they try to rebound after four months of being closed, but at all times. It is very difficult to run a small business, these days.

I would also like to thank those people who sent cards and gifts to celebrate my 62nd birthday. It was a wonderful day. As I reflect upon those years, I can honestly say that God has blessed me abundantly. God is good all the time; all the time, God is good.

Have a great week.

HOW CAN I WORSHIP AT HOME?

Although many of us have returned to in-person worship, the COVID-19 pandemic still continues, and the safest place remains at home. Further, it is not yet safe for us to offer the full range of our parish activities. Many of our ministries, clubs, and worship opportunities have been put on hold.

We must ask: how can we worship while at home?

Watch digital Mass. It's easy to watch Mass anytime, anywhere, with an Internet-capable device! St. Jane Frances de Chantal currently offers live Mass every weekend: at 4:00pm on Saturday, and at 9:00am and 11:30am on Sunday. You can watch on sjfparish.org.

But we don't have to stop there—hundreds of parishes offer live Mass every weekend and during the week! The Archdiocese of Detroit offers live Mass from the Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament at 9:00am every Sunday. You can watch at aod.org/livemasses.

Try exploring! Search for "live Mass" on YouTube or Facebook and see what comes up. This can be a great way to discover and appreciate other parishes.

Take advantage of online resources. Many Catholic resources, like usccb.org and unleashthegospel.org, offer plenty of sources for virtual formation and prayer. The USCCB offers audio recordings of and video reflections on the readings every single day! Unleash the Gospel features articles and videos of important Catholic happenings, inspirational news, and more!

St. Jane Frances de Chantal sends out a selection of these resources every Sunday via Parish News. If you'd like to sign up, visit sjfparish.org, navigate to Quick Links, and click "Sign up for Parish News." Enter your email address, and our emails will come directly to your inbox!

Explore Catholic social media. If you're interested in a relaxed, easy-to-access source of faith inspiration and formation, social media may be the source to look into. Websites like Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter can provide Scripture, resources, and inspiration.

Want a jumping-off point? St. Jane Frances de Chantal is active on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter. We post Scripture, prayer, links to Parish News, and more! From there, try checking other reputable sources, like the Detroit Archdiocese or the USCCB.

Tune into our Digital Music Series. While in-Mass singing is suspended due to COVID-19, we are pleased to offer our Digital Music Series. Join Janina Jacobs, Director of Music at St. Jane Frances de Chantal, as she performs music fit for Ordinary Time. You'll feel like you're back in Mass—while in the comfort of your own home! Visit sjfparish.org/digitalmusicseries to listen.

The following is an excerpt from an article on unleashthegospel.org. If you're interested in more like this, consider signing up for Parish News at sjfparish.org. Every Sunday, we release an email with resources & articles like this one.

BUILDING YOUR DOMESTIC CHURCH FROM BIRTH TO ADULTHOOD

By Tara Stenger on July 7, 2020 for unleashthegospel.org.

In the Familiaris Consortio apostolic exhortation, St. Pope John Paul II notes that the role of the family is to “guard, reveal, and communicate love.” Home is where we can experience this love and where we can live out this mission.

These points were explored in a virtual session at the Called & Co-Responsible: Summer Seminars for Church Life Renewal through the McGrath Institute at Notre Dame this summer. One of the speakers, Caroline Murphy, considered how families can reflect the rich soil we hear about in the parable of the sower. Since the home is a sanctuary where one is loved and understood, it becomes the rich soil. She noted, “the Divine takes place where the child already experiences love.”

The home is the rich soil where the seed of God’s love is planted, nourished, and grows. How can you make your home a place of rich soil? Each family is unique, but these are some things parents can do to help till the soil in their domestic Church.

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN IN PRAYER, REGULARLY AND PUBLICALLY

Taking time to pray for your children, calling on their guardian angels, etc., is crucial, but it is also important that your children hear your prayers for them. This not only brings them comfort now but helps them build the habit of calling on God in times of need.

CONSIDER YOUR WORDS AND ACTIONS

What you say and what you do matters to your children, whether they show it or not. This matters in times of both encouragement and criticism of your children and others. Thoughtfully choosing your words and your actions can demonstrate your attentiveness, help open the lines of communication, and model for your children how to interact with others. It also paves the way for them to come to you with questions, concerns, and an openness to listen.

ACCOMPANY THEM

Walking with your children through their life experiences helps address the needs they have and provides the opportunity to point to God working in their lives. While adults often describe their spiritual experiences verbally, children are not always able to put those into words. This does not mean that they are not encountering God; it just means that we have to be attuned to the nonverbal expressions such as art, movement, music and play.

Detroit Archdiocese
@ArchofDet

Join us in praying a novena to St. Anne—patroness of our archdiocese. These nine days of prayer are one of Detroit's oldest devotions. The themes of each day include celebrations of:

- Day 1: Asian culture
- Day 2: Celtic culture
- Day 3: Latino culture
- Day 4: Albanian culture
- Day 5: African culture
- Day 6: French culture
- Day 7: Chaldean culture
- Day 8: Italian culture
- Day 9: Polish culture

Pray with us: Good Ste. Anne, you were especially favored by God to be the mother of the most holy Virgin Mary, and thus grandmother of our Savior Jesus Christ.

By your intimacy with your most pure daughter and her divine Son, kindly obtain for us the graces that we seek. Secure for us the strength to perform faithfully our daily duties and the help we need to persevere in the love of Jesus and Mary. Amen.

Communications Facilitator
Ljeffrey@sjfparish.org
Ext. 101

As of this weekend, we have livestreamed and made available digitally 50 Masses since the start of the pandemic! Although some may have returned to in-person Mass, to many of us, digital worship is now the norm.

So—how does digital worship feel? In what ways is it different than attending Mass in-person?

The thing I hear most from parishioners is that digital Mass feels very isolated. When we watch live Mass, we aren't physically in Church. We can't look around and see our fellow parishioners. We can't smile at the ushers on the way inside, and we can't say hello to Fr. Tony on our way out. We're limited to what is shown to us through a screen. We can take some comfort in knowing that Mass is happening at the same time as we watch, however.

But when we watch video Mass, that feeling of isolation might grow even more. When we watch a prerecorded Mass, that Mass is said and done. It isn't happening at the same time we're watching. And, although we can watch that video Mass over and over, as many times as we like, it just isn't the same as watching live—and that just isn't the same as being there in person.

So what can we do to help ourselves feel closer to our fellow parishioners, Fr. Tony, and God when we watch live or video Mass?

Set the scene. If we watch live Mass on our phone, slumped on the couch or laying in bed, we hardly feel the same as we do sitting in Church. When we attend Mass in-person, we enjoy the holiness of the building, the presence of God, and the parishioners around us. So, when we watch at home, it helps to set the scene.

Find someplace quiet to set up your digital device. Sit in a chair. Set out a mat or cushion to kneel on, when the time comes. Place a crucifix someplace you can see it. Light candles. The more we can make our homes feel like Church, the closer we'll feel to normal. And, if you're quarantining or isolating with someone, invite them to enjoy Mass with you. They can help you feel that same companionship you feel with other parishioners at in-person Mass.

Avoid distractions. When we watch Mass at home, there's no one else around to notice if our mind drifts, if we go on our phone, if we stop giving the Mass our full attention. Try to avoid these distractions so we can keep our minds on the Mass. Set your phone in another room. Ask others for privacy.

Pray. Praying before Mass can help focus our minds. When we set ourselves in the presence of God, we invite Him to guide our thoughts and our actions. This can help us settle into the mindset of attending Mass. After watching Mass, pray again, thanking God for the chance to worship.

Recognize the presence of God. No matter where we are—at home, at Church, outside—God is all around us. He is with us at all times; we need only look to Him. When we watch digital Mass, we might not think to feel the presence of God. But even though we aren't in Church, we're still at Mass. Invite God to join you while you watch. Address your pre- and post-Mass prayer directly to Him. Recognize that He is with you and will help you feel closer to Him and to the Mass.

I hope these ideas can help you make at-home worship feel more like in-person worship. Being apart is a struggle; know that God is always with us.
