TWENTY-FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

SEPTEMBER 13, 2020

FR. TONY SULKOWSKI
Pastor
FrTony@sjfparish.org
Ext. 102

We are now at the midpoint of September—a time to make a trip to the cider mill, eat donuts, and wonder where all the bees came from. People will be travelling up north to close up the cottages and homes, or to just take in the colors of the leaves. People tell me that the colors of the leaves are brighter in the northern part of the state than the leaves downstate.

This summer afforded me the opportunity to do some reading. I read many of the books that I put off to the side. One of the books I read was Pope Francis' encyclical, Laudato Si.

In his encyclical, Laudato Si (On Care for Our Common Home), Pope Francis reminds us of the importance of taking care of the earth and having a greater appreciation for the gifts of God's creation. God has given each one of us dominion over the earth and of all creation, as we read in the Book of Genesis. It is an awesome responsibility. The free will that God has endowed us with gives us a choice only we can make. Do we take care of the mother earth, or do we abuse it? The choice is ours.

I would encourage everyone to read Laudato Si. It is very readable and can be used as a meditation for your spiritual life. It can be found at any bookstore, as well as purchased online—and digital copies are also available.

At the conclusion of his encyclical, Pope Francis states:

“God, who calls us to generous commitment and to give him our all, offers us the light and the strength needed to continue on our way. In the heart of this world, the Lord of life, who loves us so much, is always present. He does not abandon us, he does not leave us alone, for he has united himself definitively to our earth, and his love constantly impels us to find new ways forward. Praise be to him.”

May we take time each and every day to see the beauty of God's creation and his handiwork. However, let us also make it our goal to care for God's creation. In making us in His image, God also gave us dominion over His creation and made us stewards to care for His creation.

Bon mot: “God has put something noble and good into every heart which His hand has created.”

—Samuel Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain)

Carpe Diem,

Fr. Tony

BISHOP ROBERT BARRON'S PIVOTAL PLAYERS SERIES

Today is the last day to sign up for Bishop Barron's Catholicism: The Pivotal Players series! Interested in learning about the saints, artists, mystics, and scholars who shaped the Church? Catholicism: The Pivotal Players can help!

We will begin with the first video in the series, St. Francis of Assisi. At each session, we will view the video (approximately 30 minutes) and then spend no more than 30 minutes in group discussion, seeking to open up the experience and grow in faith. We can only host ten people at each event. To accommodate this, the first session will be held three times:

Tuesday, September 15, 2020 from 10:00am–11:00am

Tuesday, September 15, 2020 from 2:00pm–3:00pm

Thursday, September 17, 2020 from 6:30pm–7:30pm

All three of these sessions will contain the same content, so please only register for one. The best way to register is by emailing Laurie Hall at LHall@sjfparish.org. If you'd like to learn more, visit sjfparish.org/events.

PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

“Nourished by God's Word & the Eucharist, we strive to be a welcoming Catholic community dedicated to living and proclaiming the Gospel of Jesus Christ.”

NEW TO OUR PARISH?

Would you like to join the St. Jane Frances de Chantal parish family? Become a parishioner! You may register anytime in the Parish Office or online at sjfparish.org/joinus. We would love to have you!

As the new staff liaison to the St. Jane Frances de Chantal Health Ministry, my column will be divided between the two subjects. Let me first thank our Health Ministry leaders Chris Cosnowski and Kathy Pawlik for their dedication to our physical health during these uncertain times. These ladies are awesome! As soon as we're able to open up programs in-house, you'll read it here first.

As September rambles on into the throes of fall, winter is not far behind—and that means flu season. The flu has taken a back seat, but now, people are wondering how the flu and COVID-19 will interact, and what steps can be taken to fend off both. This information, courtesy of Chris and Kathy, should be helpful regarding flu shots during the pandemic:

While not as deadly or as transmissible as COVID-19, influenza still sends at least 100,000 people to the hospital each year—and 62,000 flu-related deaths are estimated this year. Serious illness and death from flu are particular risks for older adults, very young children, and those with chronic illness.

Nobody really knows what will happen with both viruses circulating at the same time, because the COVID-19 virus is so new. Will the flu make you more susceptible to COVID-19? Can you get both infections at the same time? Does having influenza make COVID-19 worse? No one really knows.

But we do know that simultaneous infections will likely overwhelm our health care system—so it certainly makes sense to prevent what we can. The CDC recommends that everyone over the age of six months be immunized for influenza. It takes about two weeks to develop immunity after the shot, so getting immunized before the start of flu season (October to March) is best. However, getting the immunization anytime during flu season helps, too.

The influenza immunization does not protect 100%, but it does prevent a lot of infections, and can decrease the severity of those infections. You might also suffer a reaction from the shot, with a fever or aches in the inoculation area, but those should pass. If they do persist, see your doctor. Most primary care offices and local drug stores have the flu vaccine available, and flu clinics are popping up all over. Most insurances cover flu shots, and many drug stores have discount programs for those without coverage for immunization.

Above all, make sure to keep your immune system strong by eating properly—especially lots of fruits and vegetables—getting adequate rest, exercising, and reducing stress. And don't forget those vitamins! Zinc and Vitamins C and D are helpful in fighting off what ails you.

Music thoughts for September: Currently, there are no plans to alter COVID-19 Mass restrictions with regard to music. It is still Ordinary Time until the Feast of Christ the King—November 22nd—but I'll change the Mass settings this week.

I also promised song titles to ponder for this month's liturgies. While I cannot include all of these within the liturgy, you can listen to them online: Prayer of St. Francis, The Master Came to Bring Good News, Now We Remain, Let Justice Roll Like a River, All Are Welcome, Be Still My Soul, Eye Has Not Seen, Gather Us In, Lord of All Hopefulness, Great Is Thy Faithfulness, Digo Si, Senor (I Say Yes, My Lord), Jesus the Lord, No Greater Love, Send Down the Fire, Unless a Grain of Wheat, Seek the Lord, Turn My Heart, O God, and Canticle of the Turning.

P.S.: Many have asked—Pudge is doing much better. His paw is still sore, but it is healing. Praise the Lord!

This time last year, we held a “Liturgy Day” for the renewal of the many who serve in liturgical ministries. In reviewing the outcomes of that weekend, I revisited the following article. I don’t often repeat articles, but prayer is a topic that never gets old. Right now, we have several opportunities for group prayer (some via Zoom) which are listed below.

“Follow your own way of speaking to our Lord sincerely, lovingly, confidently, and simply, as your heart dictates.”

—St. Jane Frances de Chantal

I have often heard people say they struggle with prayer. We don’t always know how to pray, what to pray, or how to hear God’s response. Our beloved St. Jane, in the quote above, speaks to those issues. Find your own way to communicate with God. That’s what prayer is—communication with God. There are as many ways to pray as there are ways to communicate: publicly, personally, spoken, silent, or sung. We know that God loves us and desires to be in relationship with us. Communication is key to a good relationship.

We can look to Jesus to teach us about prayer. The Gospels record many times that Jesus took time to pray: in the mornings and evenings, before ministering to the people, and before critical events in His life. We can pray the same way. Try beginning or ending your day with a conversation with God, or adding prayers of thanksgiving for the graces and challenges of our lives.

Whether you struggle with prayer or enjoy a full and active prayer life, take time today to reflect on this aspect of your faith. If you are interested in praying with others, we offer four wonderful groups: the Rosary group, the Divine Mercy Chaplet group, the Intercessory Prayer Team, and the Lectio Divina group. All welcome new members at any time and are happy to teach you.

For the Rosary and the Divine Mercy Chaplet, no registration is necessary; simply come to the parish and join the team in prayer. The Intercessory Prayer Team and Lectio Divina group are currently run via Zoom. If you’re interested in joining, please email me and I will get you to the right person and place.

The Rosary is prayed each Tuesday evening at 6:00pm in the Social Hall.

The Divine Mercy Chaplet is prayed on the last Saturday of each month, following 4:00pm Mass, in the Social Hall.

The Intercessory Prayer Team meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 1:00pm via Zoom. This team prays for the needs of the parish as shared through our Intercessory Prayer box, as well as the needs of the world, the Church, and other requests.

The Lectio Divina group prays this ancient prayer form each Wednesday at 7:00pm via Zoom. Lectio Divina is a method of prayer in the monastic tradition of reflection on Scripture. The group reads the Gospel from the upcoming Sunday, reflects, and responds through prayer, action, and resting in God.

Additionally, we have Eucharistic Adoration on the second Tuesday of each month from 1:00pm—6:30pm in the Chapel. Feel free to share in this beautiful prayer at any point during that period. Please know that you can also come into the worship space whenever the office is open to pray before the Blessed Sacrament in the Tabernacle, or to light a candle.

A solid prayer life is refuge in the storm that often swirls around us. May your communications with God be, as St. Jane tells us, sincere, loving, confident reflections of what is in your heart.

Ext. 101

Fall is almost here. Last week, I started my senior year at Oakland University—and like most students around the country, it looked a lot different than semesters past.

I've said before how much our methods of communication have shifted with the onset of the pandemic—anything we did in-person, we now have to do over the phone, via a video conference, or in writing (or text). This means we lose out on a lot of the nuances of face-to-face communication; for instance, in my case, there's no more raising our hands in class. Instead, we have to type into a chat box that we have a question. Little differences like that are pervasive when it comes to our new pandemic methods of communication.

Forgiveness is a big theme in this week's readings. Jesus himself tells us not to forgive once, "not seven times," but "seventy-seven times" (Mt 18:21-35). It can be easy to get frustrated with all the changes we've put up with—and still are putting up with. As a student, fully-online learning is new to me, and there are bound to be mistakes, frustrations, and simply bad days. That's why it's important for us to keep forgiveness in mind. None of us knew a situation like this would arrive, but we're all doing our best to embrace it.

Fall would also usually see the start of formation opportunities at our parish. COVID-19 limits what we can offer right now, but I encourage you to explore options like Bishop Robert Barron's Catholicism: The Pivotal Players series (visit sjfparish.org/events for more details).

I also ask that you embrace our new ways of communication and check us out online. We offer communication via email (sjfparish.org/news), by social media (@sjfparish.org on Facebook and Twitter, and @stjanefrancesparish on Instagram), and, of course, the bulletin. We can find comfort in this new situation, so long as we embrace it and remember to forgive.
